CORSEN AI Academy

Rules of conduct for learners

Online courses on Corsen Academy

Version 2026-11

1. Scope

These rules apply to anyone enrolled in a course delivered by Corsen AI on Corsen Academy, for the whole duration of the course.

2. Personal access

Access is personal; credentials must not be shared. Report any unauthorised access to academy@corsen.ai.

3. Attendance and tracking

Progress is recorded automatically (lessons opened, time spent, lessons completed). These records are evidence of completion; learners commit to following the content genuinely. Certificates reflect the activity actually recorded.

4. Behaviour

Harassment, violence, discrimination or sexist behaviour towards another learner or a team member, by any means, is prohibited. Reports through the complaint form or academy@corsen.ai are handled as a priority and may lead to the sanctions below.

5. Intellectual property

Content is provided for personal learning. Adaptations of third-party resources under Creative Commons licences are identified on the course page. Unauthorised reproduction, distribution or resale is prohibited.

6. Sanctions

After inviting the learner to explain in writing within eight days, Corsen AI may issue a warning, a temporary suspension or a permanent exclusion. The reasoned decision is notified by email and may be contested by writing to academy@corsen.ai.

7. Complaints

Complaints can be filed from the account (“Report a problem”) or by email. An acknowledgement with a reference is sent immediately; an answer follows within five working days.

8. Entry into force

These rules (version 2026-11) are accepted at sign-up and remain available on the platform.
